Terrible Crime Charged Against an Indiana Man.

Lodged in Jail at Fowler to Avoid the Avengers—Terrible Tragedy in a Justice's Office at Waukegan, Ills .- Man Fatally Stabbed in a Sleeping Car Berth-The Criminal Calendar.

FOWLER, Ind., Jan. 24.—Albert Tollis, the alleged Brook child murderer, was brought to this city early Thursday morning and lodged in jail by Sheriff Morgan and a posse of Newton county. Tollis is charged with having choked his own child to dealf and was brought here to escape the vengeance of a mob which threatened to storm the Newton county jall at Kentland and lynch him. Sunday night the neighbors of Tollis were attracted to his house by the screams of Mrs. Tollis. On arriving they found her seated on the floor holding in her arms an 8-month-old habe, from whose nose and mouth the blood was flowing, while the husband and father sat in a rocking chair and puffed industriously at a clay pipe.

The Child Disturbed Him. Tollis explained that he had been dis-turbed from his sleep by the child's cry-ing and had tried to pacify it by gently holding his hand over its mouth and said it would be all right as soon as its nose stopped bleeding. Some one called a physician, who, after an examination, said the child had been choked and was in a the child had been choked and was in a serious condition. Tollis only escaped lynching at that time by being arrested and taken to Kentland. Monday morning he was given a preliminary examination and held to await the result of the child's injuries. The babe died Wednesday morning, and the charge of murder in the first degree was placed assimble him. the first degree was placed against him. All day Wednesday excited throngs gathered about the stre ts of the little village of Brook and discussed the case. Lynching was freely agitated and the more it was discussed the stronger grew the sentiment against the prisoner.

Lynching Party Organized. Shortly after dark an organization was perfected and arragements made to go to Kentland. Sheriff Morgan, however, had expected this, and sent a courier to Brook early in the day to watch and report any move made by the excited populace. The courier returned to Kentland beaut 6 coulest Watnanday night and reabout 9 o'clock Wednesday night and re-ported the situation. Tollis was placed in a carriage and brought to this city. On the read he joked with his custodians and was by far the least excited man in the party. He says he has done nothing wrong and the baby's death is the result of an excident and not a murder. The of an accident and not a murder. The mother is prostrated and refuses to tell how the injuries were inflicted. But pub-lic opinion is that the babe was deliberately murdered. About three years ago a former child died under mysterious cir-cumstances, and it is now claimed Tollis

LONDON, Jan. 2s -A dispatch to The Pall Mall Gazette from Constantinople says that an offensive and defensive alliance has been concluded between Russia and Turkey. The dispatch adds that the treaty was signed at Constantinople and that the ratifications were exchanged ht St. Petersburg between Asrej Pashs and the czar. The basis of the treaty is declared to be on lines of the Unklarskelessi agreement of 1833, by which Turkey promised, in the event of Russia going to war, to close the Dardanelles to warships of all nations. The Pall Mail Gazette's correspondent adds that that treaty was soon abandoned owing to the refusal of the powers to recognize it.

Call for the Convention.

Call for the Convention

With characteristic equanimity Miss Anthony gave no recognition of the signal mark of esteem but called upon the recording scenary, Alice Stone Blackwell of Boston, to call the roll of states for names of delegates. This done, the call for the convention, which, on account of the severe criticisms passed upon It by Bishop Donne of New York, and President Eilot of Harvard university, has attracted widespread attention, was slow by and deliberately road by Mrs. Blackwell. It said in parts

"We seek the support of all those who desire the physical, intellectual and moral improvement of mankind. If this convention shall promote in any degree free en; if it shall incite them to pirations: if it shall advance by a lew steps just legislation and a wise public sentiment; if it shall basien the recognition of the justice of woman's claim to equal political rights with men, it will not have been in vain. Secretary Avery's Report, After the appointment or committees and brief addresses of tribute to workers who had died during the last year Rachel Foster Avery of Philadelphia, corresponding secretary, nade her annual report, Among other things she said: "We now have six senators and representatives from three states on the floor of congress, all of whom stand there with an everpresent sense that an important part of their 'constituents' are of the female sex." In referring to the "Woman's Bible" she called it a "jumble" and said: "I recom-mend that we take some action by resolution to show that the association is not re-sponsible for the individual actions of any of its officers when acting unofficially and as an individual simply

The convention then adjourned until 8 o'clock, when Miss Anthony delivered her annual address and Rev. Anna Howard Shaw made on address of welcome to the designtes from the new state of Utah.
